FOREWORD

To prevent the memories of the past being lost in the dreams of the future, to reflect the aspirations and ideals, and the activities and achievements of student life, and to preserve a record of the wondrous interlude which we have enjoyed at the University are the aims of this, the 1932 volume of the Ole Miss.

DEDICATION

INSPIRED by the feeling of brotherhood and sincerity of spirit that lives eternally in the heart of every student and alumnus of the University, many have given their efforts that OLE MISS might regain her rightful standing among the universities of the South. To these we dedicate this record of a college year.

THE COLLEGE

*Sweet memories of southern days
Are mingled with thy stately peace.*

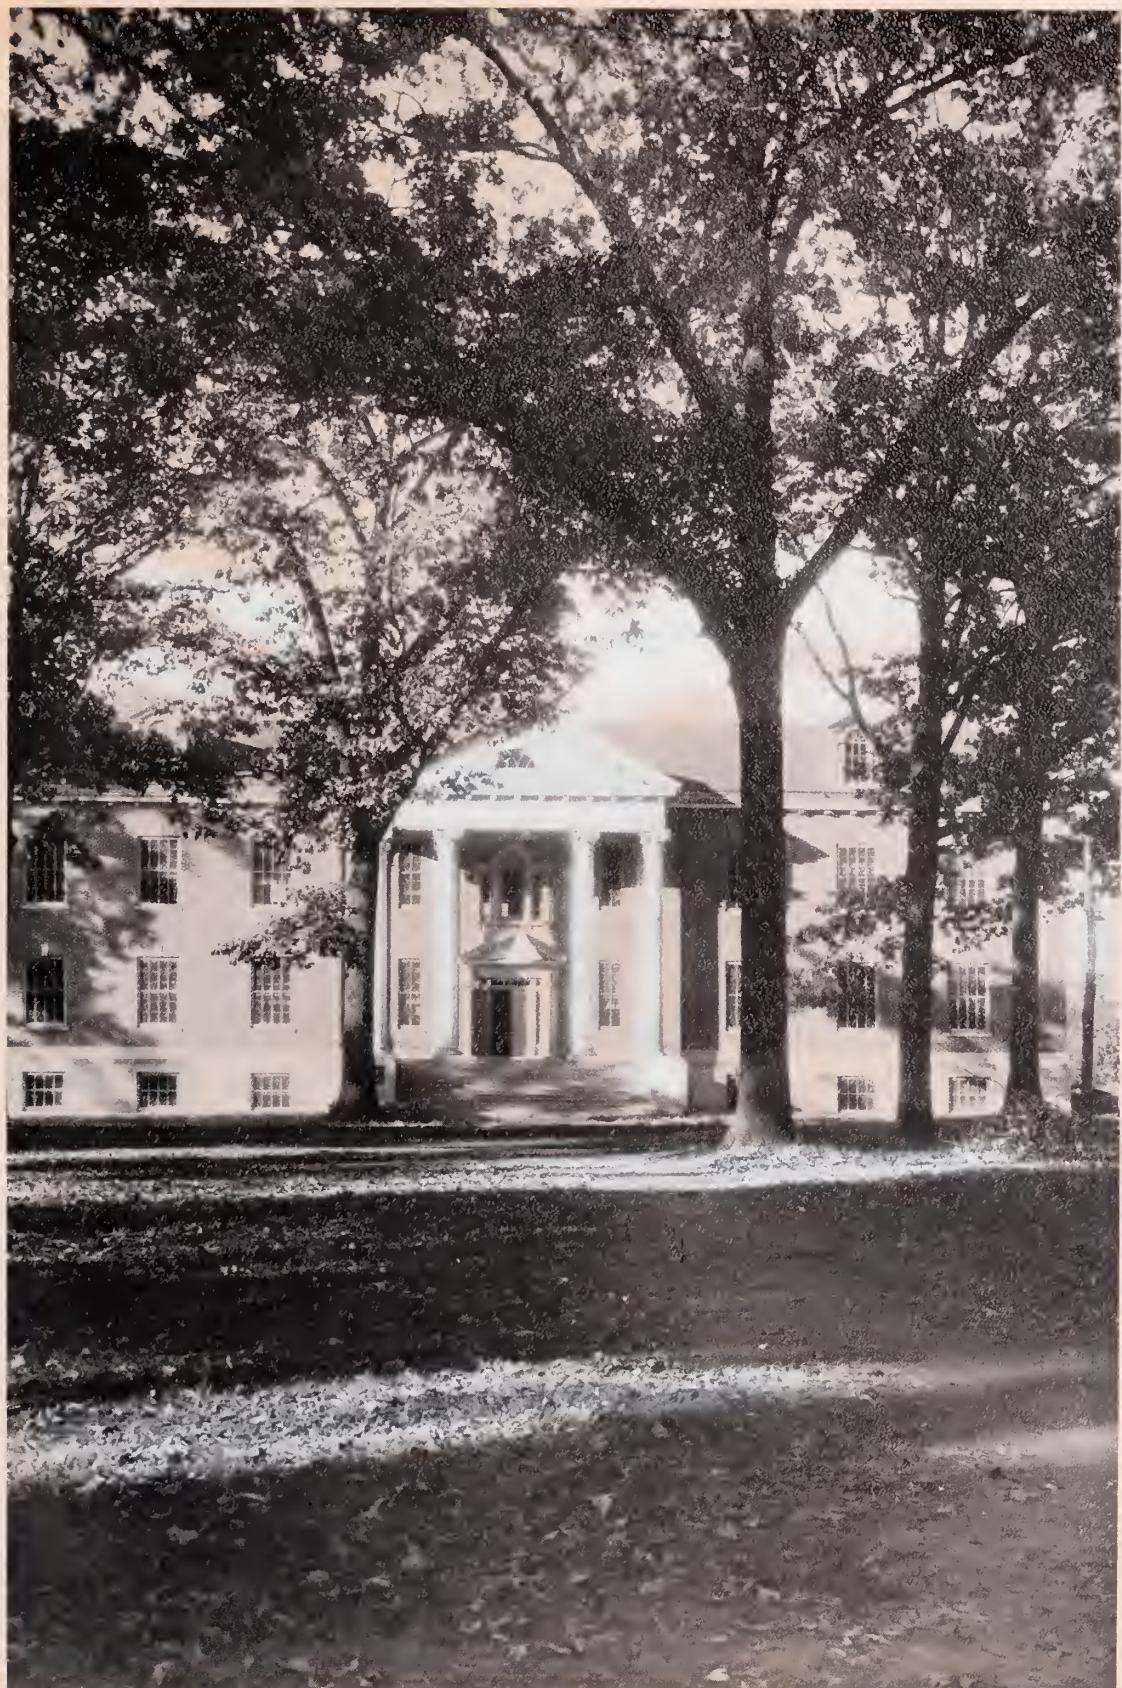

*"There will I build him
A monument, and plant it around with shade."*

"And books we know are a substantial world Both pure and good."

"To follow knowledge, like a sinking star, Beyond the utmost bound of human thought."

*Within thy walls are the seats of the mighty,
Here the laws are made.*

*Roman gods could not surpass
The braves who meet within thy halls.*

*Oh halls of wisdom far renowned
Oh life and thought for future years.*

"Here, too, dwells simple truth; plain innocence; Unsullied beauty; sound, unbroken youth."

The Ole Miss

CHANCELLOR J. N. POWERS

Whose vital interest in all our activities—whether work or play—has caused us to regard him as the students' friend, one who is always working for the best interests of the University, and a man of high character who has been an inspiration to the many who have known him.

History of the Class of 1932

FOUR times the freshness of budding spring has called up within us romance, exuberance, and blissful laziness, enticing us from studies to the shaded clover patches. Four years ripened with rich experiences have slipped sylph-like into the past to enlarge the canvas of our memory on which are painted with delicate skill and vividness scenes, in the shaping of our lives, which are deepened and hallowed by a growing perspective. The Class of 1932 is on the verge of graduation, leaving collegiate scenes to take its place in the state's and nation's affairs.

The Class of 1932 has a colorful history, because within its short span of time Ole Miss has passed a very important milestone marking the close of one era and the prelude to another. To chronicle all the details of this class would be a formidable challenge to a more scholarly person than I, but the high lights of these four years may be briefly touched.

Freshman days were full of thrilling, joyous episodes which no succeeding class can duplicate. "Thirty-two" was the last class to be domiciled in Old Taylor Hall. These Taylor Hall days with that heinous crew of mischievous freshmen, the "Great Fire" (of the railroad flares), the exciting raids from West Gordon's dreaded gang, four All-Southern basketball players on one team, co-champions of the whole South in baseball are clear flashes of a great year.

As sophomores we saw a million-dollar-building dream become a reality. The new gymnasium, graduate school building, field house, law building, cafeteria, six boys' dormitories, and Isom Hall for the girls were constructed to become a part of the setting for a "Greater Ole Miss." A student body of twelve hundred was the largest the University has ever known. Ole Miss was vibrant in prosperity. The campus was lively and the worries were few.

Another year the juniors saw a different Ole Miss. "The panic is on" was the popular by-word. Difficulties arose with affiliating associations. A quiet soberness began to creep into us, and we realized that we were growing older as graduation thinned the leaders in the classes before us, and the Class of '32 began quietly to ascend to responsibilities and poise itself for actual leadership. Without the least disturbance of the even trend of student activity this class has assumed the leadership of Ole Miss and contributed abundantly to its life.

Many faces have disappeared from the picture, most of whom we recall with delightful memories and associations, but the "Taylor Hall Rats" have remained loyal to an Alma Mater which seemed staggering under many trials. They have helped to steady, bolster, and begin to build anew a proud institution.

The cohesive spirit of this class has been uplifting to Ole Miss during days of depression and discouragement, and our sincere hope is that in the days of tomorrow we may, as alumni, direct our thoughts backward and be proud to visualize plainly our footprints in the Ole Miss path of progress.

Alma Mater

*'Way down south in Mississippi there's a spot that ever calls,
Where among the hills enfolded stands old Alma Mater's halls.
Where the trees lift high their branches to the whispering Southern breeze,
There Ole Miss is calling, calling to our hearts fond memories.*

*With united hearts we praise thee, all our loyalty is thine.
And we hail thee, Alma Mater, may thy light forever shine:
May it brighter grow and brighter, and with deep affection true.
Our thoughts shall ever cluster 'round thee, dear old Red and Blue.*

*May thy fame throughout the nation, through thy sons and daughters grow;
May thy name forever waken in our hearts a tender glow;
May thy counsel and thy spirit ever keep us one in this,
That our own shall be thine honor now and ever, dear Ole Miss!*

THE MISS

Playing a difficult schedule of nine games, the 1931 football team won two, tied one and lost six. Ole Miss offers no alibi for its lost games. Win or lose, she extends her heartiest congratulations to the boys who fought for the Red and Blue. To them goes the glory; they fought—win or lose—they fought. The heavy schedule never once daunted them; they entered suicide row with a courage that never before has been shown by an Ole Miss squad. Persistently confronted with that injury jinx, the '31 Flood stood always ready on the field of battle to defend its laurels.

Always courageous, always scrapping, always in the best of spirits, never down-hearted, never disgruntled, the Flood encountered foe after foe of the toughest calibre, taking its breaks as they came. If ever a squad should feel down-hearted, the '31 Flood should have. Starting the season against the heaviest teams was enough to discourage even the best. Injuries added to this, and they were forced to take defeat for their pay.

It was a great spirit that the boys on the team maintained throughout the season. It was all that could be hoped for. Three good, all-round, clean-playing men will be missing from the campus when Coach Walker sounds his clarion for grid practice next fall. Captain Neal

Biggers, that back that stamped his name in "Flood football history," will be absent. Tobe Bowles, the man who was always in that line fighting for a cause, has played his last game. Last, but not least, comes that ever-dependable quarterback, L. A. Ross, who was always trying plays to push the Flood further down the field. It may be a long wait for local fandom before they possess more men of the prowess of these, for they were a ball of fight rolled into a ray of encouragement for the crippled Flood to carry on.

Space does not permit us to give all the men on the team their just praise, but we cannot pass without mentioning that man in the line who was always hot to fight and came out of every play with a smile and a word of encouragement for every player. Lee Howard Trapp, guard, was regarded as one of the most capable linemen in the south. In every contest he shined brilliantly, and for his efforts he was awarded by bestowing upon him the position of Captain for next season. Along with Trapp comes Tommy Swayze, that end who hails from West Texas. He was a guardian of a wing post who could not be thwarted in his efforts to mow down the opposing offense. He gave a splendid exhibition in every engagement in which he took part. The foes could not draw him out or in, and he was a constant menace to the opposition at all times.

Without passing further we must give to that powerful Turnbow the praise that is his. He was the one who held the fate of A. & M. in the palm of his hand and drove through the line for any gain he wished. He was used as a fullback part of the time and in the line the other part. At both posts he proved equally adept. He was as tough and hard as the Rock of Gibraltar to knock off his feet, and his keen eyes seemed to lead him through holes as though they were a guiding light.

Jack Burke, the man who ran 109 yards through the entire 'Bama team, played his first year with the Red and Blue eleven. Jack not only made this run, but also made spectacular plays and runs against every other opponent he met. He exhibited a stellar, jam-up brand of ball. Brad White and Alvin Britt, two of the best fighters on the team, proved to be a power in the Flood front line of attack with their ferocious tackling and cock-sure blocking. They were adept at bringing the backs down to earth and preventing the opposing linemen from breaking through them and nailing the Flood backs.

Raymond Casper, who was the star of the Freshman squad the previous year, was a steady stay in the Flood backfield until his injury in the Tulane game. He was a heavy loss in the Ole Miss offense. Even with his injury, he was able to stay on the squad and win his letter.

Ole Miss won her opening game with Western Kentucky Teachers by using all strategy and hard fighting. Jack Burnett outstepped the Kentucky backs with a 27-yard sprint off right tackle for the first tally. Kentucky came back to tie the score when Casper's pass was intercepted. Casper then returned the kickoff with a 50-yard run from his goal line. Brad White, the hard-driving half, tore off several gains through tackle and fumbled within a few feet of the goal after a sensational run with a short pass from Casper. Captain Neal Biggers recovered the ball and rolled over the goal line for a touchdown and the end of the game.

The second game of the season with Tulane's Green Wave was not successful for the Flood, but Tulane found a stiff opponent in Ole Miss and was lucky to hand up such a score. The Ole Miss squad gave a good exhibition of defensive football but lacked offensive power and reserve strength. The Mississippians fought valiantly in the first half and held Tulane scoreless in the second quarter. The turning point of the game was reached at the beginning of the third quarter when Jack Burke, quarterback, caught Tulane's kickoff and raced through the entire Tulane squad for 104 yards and the goal line. The referee called him back and put the ball in play on Tulane's 45 yard line where he ruled that Jack had stepped out. After this disheartening ruling, Ole Miss never seemed able to stop the pounding attack of Tulane, and the Green Wave was able to pile up a score of 31 to 0.

Ten thousand spectators witnessed the game in which a hard-charging Alabama line pushed the Flood back for some nice gains. 'Bama got off to a good start with three touchdowns in the first period. Jack Burke, fleet Red and Blue half, made the longest run to be made in a football game, when he returned the ball 109 yards from a kick-off to make the only counter for the Flood. Ole Miss realized the value of a strong reserve and it was due to the lack of substitutes that the results were so one-sided. Through the success of their aerial attack and some nice line gains, Alabama came through with a 55-6 score over the Flood squad.

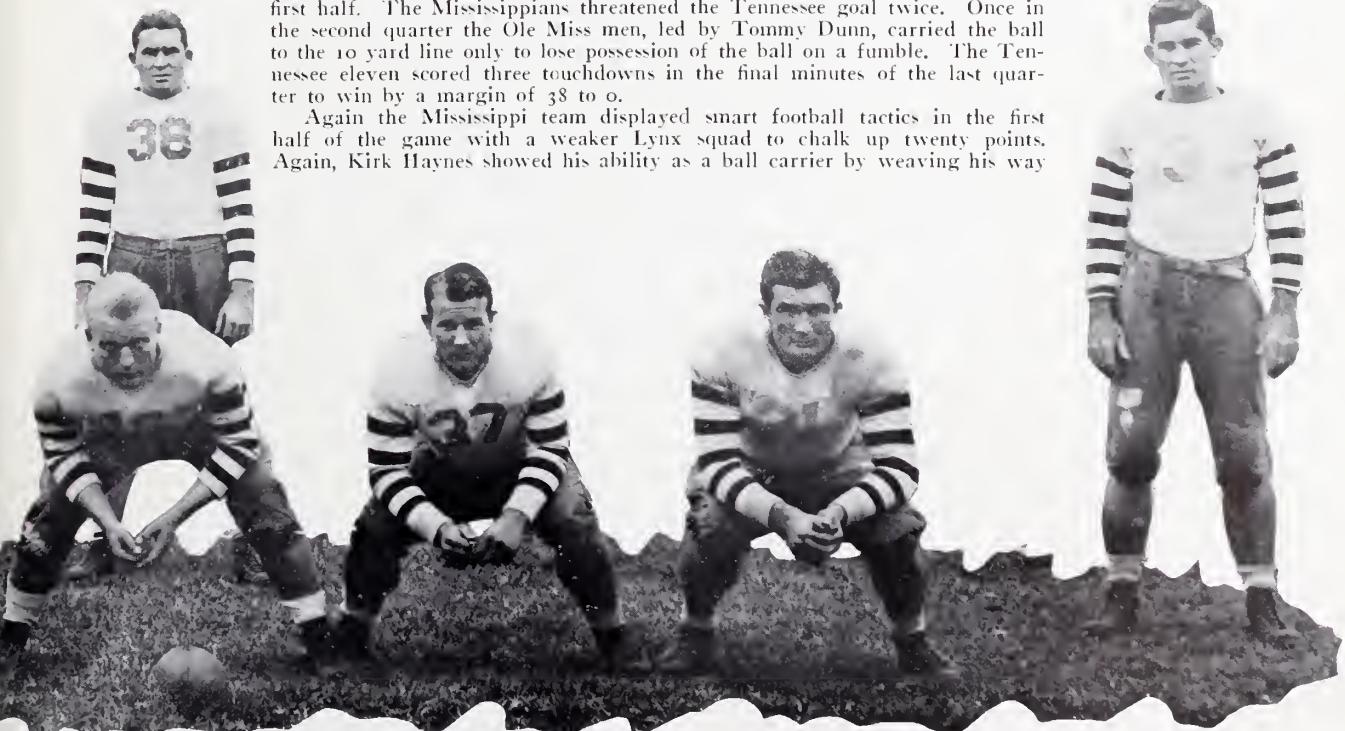

The Ole Miss eleven journeyed to Knoxville to encounter the strong Tennessee squad, after having played the undefeated Greenies of Tulane and Alabama Crimson Tide in consecutive games. Nevertheless, the fighting Red and Blue showed superhuman strength in holding the Tennesseans to 12 points in the first half. The Mississippians threatened the Tennessee goal twice. Once in the second quarter the Ole Miss men, led by Tommy Dunn, carried the ball to the 10 yard line only to lose possession of the ball on a fumble. The Tennessee eleven scored three touchdowns in the final minutes of the last quarter to win by a margin of 38 to 0.

Again the Mississippi team displayed smart football tactics in the first half of the game with a weaker Lynx squad to chalk up twenty points. Again, Kirk Haynes showed his ability as a ball carrier by weaving his way through the Lynx for long gains. Bart Harrington accounted for the gains through the line. The Lynx came back in the second half however, with an aerial attack to tie the score 20-20 when the whistle blew.

A hard-fighting band of Red and Blue Southerners held the stronger Marquette eleven to the close margin of 13-6. Kirk Haynes, shifty half-back, threw a scare into the Wisconsin multitude when he took the pigskin on the opening kick-off, waited for perfect interference, and weaved his way through the entire Marquette squad for 104 yards and a touch-down. The Ole Miss men were all over the Marquette squad from beginning to end, smearing play after play. The Mississippians Tigers in Jackson and were met with the surprise of the season. After threatening the Tiger goal line twice in the first quarter and finally compromising with Burke's perfect kick for a field goal, the Red and Blue Flood was forced on the defensive.

Though at times displaying a flashy attack with potential power, the Flood offense failed when short gains were needed. Burke, Casper and Dunn showed the best work for the Flood offensive, getting off nice gains in midfield. Almokary, Smith, and Bowman were in there for the Tigers and pushed over two markers in the second quarter. The Flood made a desperate effort to come back in the dying minutes, carrying the ball deep into the Tiger territory on a series of line plays, but were held for the whistle, the score 26-3.

BASKETBALL

Captain Cliff Tynes

Basketball, 1932

It would be hard to give enough credit to Coaches Walker and Smalling for the splendid quintet they produced in 1932. Beginning the season rather slow, but adding momentum as the season progressed, the Red and Blue quintet enjoyed a brilliant schedule of games against the finest basketball teams of the South. Engaging in twelve conference games during the regular season, the Ole Miss basketeers can point with pride to eight victories, two of the four losses being by a margin of two points, and one by only three points.

Ole Miss and her stalwart stars were a sensation wherever they played. Coach Walker built around the trio of goal-tossing veterans, Captain Cliff Tynes, "Pepper" Haynes, "String" Simpson, a team second to none they have played. The Mississippi goal was guarded by Montgomery, Herrington, and Britt in a very capable manner.

The Red and Blue won a 77-30 victory in a pre-season game with the Ecru Indians. The locals outclassed the visitors from the beginning, both on the offense and defense. Captain Cliff Tynes proved his ability to toss the ball through the net by turning in a high individual score, with Haynes and Swor running a close second.

Ole Miss allowed L. S. U. to escape with a 37-34 victory in the first conference game. The Mississippians were off form and couldn't seem to get the right foot forward. The Red and Blue squared the series by capturing the second game, 24-22. The locals held the edge throughout in a bitterly fought game, with only a few points separating the quintets at any time.

The Mississippians then journeyed to L. S. U., where the Tigers nosed them out in the first of a two-game series by the small margin of two points. The locals played a good game, but were on the little end of an unusually high score. The Red and Blue came back in the second game, and the closing whistle found the Tigers on the small end of a 34-32 score. In all the games with L. S. U., the score was close and to win required plenty of alertness and head work.

The local cagers won a decisive victory in the first of a two-game series with Tulane. The Greenies came back to win the second game.

Ole Miss struck its basketball stride to swamp Mississippi State, 37-19. The Red and Blue five looked a great deal like championship contenders, as they held the Maroons scoreless for the first quarter. The uncanny goal tossing of Haynes and Tynes gave Ole Miss the lead which the quintet held throughout the game. The local cagers made it two straight by winning the second game from the Aggies, 31-25. The game was sensational and the score very close at times, but the Red and Blue proved themselves superior, as the results indicate.

COACH SMALLING, TYNES, HAYNES, FORTENBERRY, BRITT, COACH WALKER
MONTGOMERY, SIMPSON, SWOR, FERRIL, HERRINGTON, WILLIAMSON

Alabama succeeded in holding on to a small point margin to win the first of a two-game series by a score of 23-21. The Red and Blue spirit was not to be daunted; pulling themselves together, the Walker squad came through with a 33-30 victory in the second game. In the last seconds of play, Haynes and Swor marked the counter that sent the game into an overtime period.

Two clean-cut triumphs over Mississippi State rounded out the season in a flash of meteoric brilliance. The traditional Aggie rivals were unable to cope with the uncanny ability of the Red and Blue quintet, and, as a result, the Maroons again saw the Ole Miss men go off the field of play the undisputed conquerors. The Red and Blue hoopsters, spurred on by the idea of matching will and strength with an old rival, displayed basketball technique that was unquestionable. In the first game the locals got an early lead and held it throughout the game. Swor was a menace to the opposition, both on offense and defense. In the second game the local men piled up a high score in the first half with Swor leading the offense.

Throughout the season the work of Captain Cliff Tynes was noteworthy. "String" Simpson was a great asset to the Ole Miss quintet; his loss will be seriously felt next season. The playing of Swor, Haynes, and Montgomery was most commendable. With the freshman available, prospects for 1933 are particularly bright.

Freshman Basketball, 1932

A star aggregation, such as the Ole Miss Freshman seldom before have boasted, made possible one of the most successful basketball seasons this year that the Freshmen have ever experienced. Even before the season opened, it was evident that the Freshmen had a team that could not fail to produce a sensation. Observers who watched the new court men were unanimous in the prophecy that the Freshmen were due an eventful season.

After meeting some of the strongest teams in this section of the state, the Red and Blue neophytes came through with a perfect record of five straight victories.

Early in the season the Flood Freshmen made a trip to Tupelo, and returned with a 28-21 victory over the strong Tupelo Quintet. In their return encounter with the same team, they again emerged with a victory, 43-32. Two more victories followed soon after this, one over Charleston, 44-25, the other over the Hickory Flats Quintet, 40-25. The season closed with a flashy victory over the powerful Senatobia basketeers, 40-30.

Throughout the season the Freshman cagers saw much strenuous action in their scrimmages against the Varsity. Among the promising prospects for the Varsity, Curtis, Winter, Floyd, Smith and Dorman stand out in prominence.

Much credit for the success of the season is due to the able guidance of Coach "Tad" Smith.

Varsity Baseball, 1931

The Red and Blue baseball team had a rather successful season despite the many handicaps which confronted it. Unfavorable indeed were the prospects facing the men who were to carry the Ole Miss colors to victory. Coach Pete Shields, however, recruited new material and filled the vacancies of the previous year by very competent players from the Sophomore ranks. Realizing their weakness, the Red and Blue men fought hard to win the praise and esteem of Ole Miss.

Ole Miss opened the season with spirit, winning two out of three games in a series with Minnesota. Rain prevented the completion of the scheduled four-game series, thus giving the northerners a break. Minnesota took the first game in easy fashion by 5 to 0.

The Gopher pitchers took advantage of the weak batting lineup of the Ole Miss boys and won a well-pitched game from Dick Peeples. Peeples allowed only seven hits; his downfall was due to errors. In the second game Ole Miss turned the tables. Tom Swayze, sophomore pitcher for the Red and Blue, made his debut and brought the home boys a victory of 7 to 3. Ole Miss started things in the first inning when Haynes went to first on an error, and Rube Wilcox sent the ball to left center for a home run. In the third and last game of the series, George Boutwell, veteran pitcher of the Red and Blue, pitched one of the best games of his career at Ole Miss, allowing only five hits. A chief factor in the Red and Blue victory of 4 to 1 was the batting of Kirk Haynes, right fielder, who secured two home runs and a double to win the batting honors of the day.

Illinois came down for a series, but on account of weather conditions were able to play only one game which the invading team won by a score of 6 to 1.

The Red and Blue men attained still more glory by winning a two-game series from Michigan State. In the first game Ole Miss won 4 to 3; Dick Peeples allowed only eight scattered hits. The second game found Tommy Swayze on the mound, which enabled the home boys to keep the Spartans under control with ease. The Ole Miss boys went on a rampage of hitting and easily proved their superiority over the Spartans by the result of 5 to 2. Harvey Burnett and Newman Dorsey, outfielders, won batting honors for the day with three hits each.

The Ole Miss Nine then invaded Vandy territory for the first conference game of the series. The Vanderbilt team managed to break a three-all deadlock in the eighth inning and secure a victory of 6 to 3. Had it not been for the good fielding of the Red and Blue boys, especially that of Henry Minor Faser, outfielder, and "Sugar" Ewing, second baseman, the Vandy boys could not have been held to the slim margin of three runs. Bucky Moore, first baseman, and Rube Wilcox, third baseman, led the hitting for the home boys. This loss of a conference game opened the eyes of the Ole Miss boys, and next day they defeated the Cominodores with a crushing victory of 10 to 6.

The Ole Miss men then journeyed to Alabama where the Crimson Tide won two close games, 3 to 1 and 9 to 7 respectively. After this, despite good fielding on both sides, Alabama took an even closer game on the Ole Miss diamond. When Duncan Redhead, pitcher, and George Berry, catcher, scored on a long hit by Haynes, Ole Miss almost gained a victory, but finally yielded to the foe with a 4 to 3 defeat.

The wave of the Red and Blue was checked in the first game with the Milsaps Majors, although Ole Miss shared equally in hits with the Majors. Skeeter Webb, flashy shortstop, displayed excellent form in batting as well as taking them off the turf.

The home boys invaded L. S. U. where they took a two-game series, 5 to 3 and 7 to 5. Coach Shields used two of his veterans, Redhead and Boutwell, to excellent result. Faser, Webb, Berry, and Wilcox led the attack for the Red and Blue.

The Aggies came over and took two hard-fought games from the Red and Blue, scores 7 to 5 and 10 to 7. The first game was an array of hitting, led by George Berry, for the home team. In the second, Dick Peeples pitched a good game and did spectacular hitting, particularly his home run in the seventh which tied the score.

The Milsaps Majors invaded the campus for a two-game series, in which the Ole Miss men displayed their skill and won both games, 4 to 1 and 5 to 1. These games marked the last exhibitions on the campus for the season. Peeples pitched a wonderful game to end his appearance on the home diamond. Skeeter Webb topped off three hits, one of which was a home run, to win the game which stood at a tie. The second game was won with a fine display of talent by the Ole Miss men. The work of Kirk Haynes at outfield, Moore at first, and the batting of Swayze and Berry were factors in the victory.

Then came the breath-taking moment when the Red and Blue men invaded Aggie Town for the last two games of the season. Ole Miss won the first game by a close margin, 7 to 6, because of their improved hitting.

In accordance with the custom before the last game of the season, Coach Pete Shields announced the lettermen, and they, in turn, elected as captain, Rube Wilcox, who has starred on the gridiron as well as on the diamond.

The Aggies won the series in taking the last game by a close margin, regardless of the hitting of Moore and Boutwell, 5 to 2.

These men deserve particular mention: Skeeter Webb, flashy shortstop, led the Red and Blue batters for the season; Henry Minor Faser, outfielder, ended the season with a perfect fielding record; and "Sugar" Ewing, second baseman, turned in only two errors. The leading hitters were Webb, Berry, Wilcox, Peeples, and Burnett.

The truth in summing up the Red and Blue season is that Coach Shields and the team performed exceptionally well and exceeded the anticipation of even the most optimistic.

Freshman Track, 1931

The construction of a new track at Ole Miss paved the way for the reinstallation of a major sport which has been neglected for a number of years. Coach Kenneth Gatchell called early in the year for freshmen who wished to compete for places on the 1931 track team. The Red and Blue men responded to the call and began work in earnest with that determination to win, so characteristic of Ole Miss athletes. Realizing the task before them, these never faltering aspirants of the Red and Blue devoted their attention to consistent training to carry the Ole Miss colors to higher peaks.

Attention was centered on the freshmen as they were to be the foundation of the future track squad. Coach Gatchell, with a number of aspirants most of whom were inexperienced, molded a track squad, some members of which broke records at home and throughout the country.

The Red and Blue freshmen won the first dual meet of the season from Raymond Junior College. Jack Burnett easily outstepped his opposition on the sprints, while Brad White handled the weights exclusively and won on an easy margin. Genung won the high jump and Flowers accounted for numerous points on the hurdles and pole vault.

Two southern conference records were equaled and two campus records were broken in the dual. The 100 yard dash in 9.8 seconds and the 220 yard dash in 21.3, while Brad White threw the javelin 178 feet four inches to better the 1929 campus record by 3 feet. Flowers took high honors for the freshmen by scoring two first places, a tie for first, and two second places.

White, Burnett, Flowers and McCullough went to New Orleans to enter the Southern A. A. U. meet. Burnett ran the 100 yard dash in 9.8 and the 220 yard dash in 21.2 to tie all records in the history of the south. Brad White took first place in the shot put, third in the discus throw, and third in the javelin. Flowers accounted for himself in winning second in the shot and second in the discus, while McCullough took fourth place in the three mile run. In the senior day events Burnett won second in the 220 yard dash and White took third in the shot.

Jack Burnett entered the National A. A. U. meet in the summer. He broke the records in junior meet by stepping the 100 in 9.6 and the 220 in 21.3, which tied the then existing senior day record.

This year's track men gave a splendid account of themselves and are expected to do even greater things in the coming season. With the support of other capable Red and Blue men as Glass, Cunningham, Burke, Reeder and Jackson, Ole Miss has a very bright outlook for future track teams. meet with Copiah Lincoln Junior College which the Ole Miss freshmen easily won. ### Boxing, 1931

To Coach Sullivan and Sammy Kyzar goes the credit for the organization of the first boxing team to fight for the Red and Blue. Last year Sammy took over the task of coaching the boxing team and when he got through he had made a name for himself and Ole Miss. The material he worked on had never been in a ring against an opponent until the fight with Tulane. Kyzar was the only one to win in this fight, but won by a knock-out. Then two fights with A. and M., both of which Ole Miss came out victorious. They won the first fight by a count of four to two and the second by a count of three to two, with one draw. Kyzar still won by knock-outs. It is impossible to say too much of Kyzar, the coach and also one of the team, as he was the only undefeated middle weight in the Southern Conference. It is this first team that gets the glory of blazing the way for Ole Miss into the boxing ring and the addition of another sport to the activities on the Ole Miss Campus.

Tennis, 1931

A fast and competent aggregation of Ole Miss netmen were selected to carry the Red and Blue for 1931. Playing all of the matches away from home with no cheers or ovations from the spectators, the Red and Blue Racqueteers relied solely on skill and talent to win when defeat seemed inevitable.

Due to weather conditions and the cancellation of several matches, the Ole Miss Tennis Team was not able to play all of the proposed schedule, which included trips to Southwestern, A. and M., Birmingham Southern, Howard, and the A. A. U. Tournament in New Orleans.

Wilson Montjoy, captain, Sedgie Griffith, Dean Faulkner, John Faulkner and Ira Boswell showed their superiority as net men in the elimination tournament, but met with a temporary halt when they invaded Aggie town. The Aggie men took the matches five to two by winning all the doubles, but the Red and Blue Racqueteers came from behind to take two of the singles.

The Red and Blue netmen then went to Southwestern for a series of matches. The home boys, seemingly not recovered from the defeat at the hands of A. and M., allowed the Southwesterners to split the matches three to three, Ole Miss winning one single and two doubles.

The Ole Miss Racqueteers then journeyed to New Orleans to take part in the A. A. U. Tournament, where Dean Faulkner, Ira Boswell and John Faulkner went into the seconds. The Red and Blue netters continued to put up a hard fight, but were unable to equal the skill of the rival racqueteers.

Norris Trophy Winner

For the past several years the Norris Candy Company of Atlanta has presented a trophy to the most outstanding athlete in the University of Mississippi, through its local agents, Gathright-Reed Drug Co. To be eligible for this award a man must be selected on the following basis: First freshman sport participated in, 2 points, with one point for each additional sport; first varsity letter, 5 points, with two and a half points for each additional letter in that sport; 10 points for a varsity letter in a second sport, with two and a half points for each succeeding letter in that sport; 15 points for a varsity letter in a third sport, with two and a half points for each additional letter in that sport. The selection as captain of one of the major varsity teams carries five extra points with it, and a majority vote of the student body adds 10 points. It is also required that the men eligible for the trophy pass at least seventy per cent of their work during the year they are selected and that they be seniors in the University.

Last year the trophy was awarded to George W. Boutwell of Laurel, Mississippi, who starred in football, basketball, and baseball, earning a total of fifty-six and one-half points during his four years at Ole Miss.

To be awarded the Norris Trophy is to receive the highest honor that can come to an athlete at the University.

Cheer Leaders

The success of any team depends largely on the spirit of the cheer leaders. Theirs is the duty of showing a team just what the school believes it can do, of encouraging when inspiration is needed, of cheering when the goal is reached, and above all else to lead the student body in expressing its appreciation and support. This job of leading cheers does not involve the mere yelling of a few practiced cheers, nor does it cease when the game is over; the job requires courage, loyalty, spirit, and the ability to inspire all three in the minds of the students, and that is no hour's work; it necessitates continuous effort and responsibility. Whatever success Ole Miss has attained by her cheering section this year is due to the enthusiasm and untiring efforts of its Cheer Leaders, Virginia Culley and Johnnie Gilliland. They have done their best to help the Red and Blue: they have worked when the odds were against them, and they have never failed to show that the spirit of Ole Miss is instilled in their hearts. They have rendered great service to Ole Miss, and for that service there is no adequate acknowledgment.

Forum (and Against 'Em)

Salvation Army Employees

"Listen my children and you shall hear of the midnight ride, etc." This bunch used to be called the army for the simple reason they wanted quantity not quality. This year their goal, ambition, and hearts desire failed them even as good whiskey fails to be had from Oxford bootleggers. They have only the small number of twenty-nine members. However the glories of their past will still echo through the halls of Ole Miss and we will still think of them as having more members than the Boy Scouts of America and more chapters than Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery-Ward combined. They are the men who have made Ole Miss.

They now worship at their shrine the luminaries. G. D. Baby Ray, custodian of the chapel, serenades the coop nightly, singing over station G.I.N. "The breath of the boys of the dormitory." Stallworth goes madly on seeking to be another Cousins and trying to win favor with our Chee Wee. Just another S. A. E. trying to be a D.D.D. Coers . . . (Censored). Jones Fredric takes Dee Collins' post and the army goes madly marching on. And last of all we have Cousins, the man of many keys. But I presume too much, I promised to leave him with a question mark (?) and let you dear readers fill in the rest.

P.S.—Cousins just dropped in and said not to leave Steamboat Moore out of this write-up.

Men who made Ole Miss

PHI MU

Is it power—or what—that the Five Mules have in rushing? Perhaps it's just "look over last year's annual at the Who's Who section to see how we rate." This year, though, they had to get help from their good friends (?) Tri-Delt, to railroad in a half dozen of their girls. Mary Jeanette and Mac gain publicity for the chapter by their well known little escapade, and they all do their best—much to our disgust—with such sorry material, to rate like H—. They claim carnations as their flowers. This year it should have been lilies. The conceit of Barnett and the egotism of Donald and Aycock add much to the prestige of this group. Fogg, Owen and Norquist hold forth in a desperate political effort to at least make the existence of the chapter known on the campus. May we suggest that this chapter be dubbed the Five —— rather than the Five Mules? They have but one redeeming factor, Steele. How they ever lured such a prize into their midst is more than we can figure out.

P. P. P.

And, now comes the BIG SHOT group. Please, dear reader, don't consider these little fellows in a serious frame of mind. They were never capable of having a serious thought. However, they did fool their share of the freshmen last fall—poor little freshies.

Mitchell tries very hard to edit a successful annual, but with Taylor on his mind he was able to do very little. As editor of the annual he sponsored a yearbook free of politics, no fraud, and fair elections; and—for once the "Ole Miss" comes out without any politics being connected with it (says you, fat, overstuffed prune! ! ! ! )

BIG SHOTS—Donald and Wilroy. Of course when the editor got ready to release this book these two BIG SHOTS told him that he could do so. The wartz, Wilroy, continues to glow, sparkle, glisten, and shine, as one with that title is accustomed to do to be noticed. He had to neglect his former position as President of the class in order to superintend the yearbook. Donald—the politician. The BIG BOY. Wonder if Ole Miss will continue to remain open after he graduates? The Preacher, however, seemed to be able to hold Bill in his right place most of the year. Fortunate for the University, though, that no one ever paid any attention to either of these BIG SHOTS anyway.

Just for reference in future years we would like to herewith record the fact that Big Bill Donald and Tobe Bowles were the originators of Sex appeal on the Ole Miss campus.

Bob Smith, the only sensible and quiet boy in the group tried very hard to hold up their average with his bare but studious attempts. Bob will be president of the Iuka Silicon Mines, Inc., if he can stay away from Wilroy long enough.

As professional men think that this "band of jolly good fellows" would make a fine group of professional farmers, in fact that is about all they are anyway. We predict that Tobe Bowles will be the first one of them to get married. He made grave and promising attempts during his senior year to raise the standing of the fraternity at the coop.

THE OLE MISS, 1932

With the passing of the BIG SHOTS we know that the fraternity will be forced to withdraw from the campus.

Oh, yes, we forgot to tell you that the name of this group of slim, under-nourished, sickly-looking, quiet, reserved, refined, unassuming, unnoticeable and otherwise unheard of group of boys are known as the Phi Pi Phi's the Three P's. (P)roperly (P)ronounced (P)rosperous since they took over the 1932 "Ole Miss."

DELTA PSI

Ah, but just the name of Delta Psi takes us into the realm of the grand and the sublime!—What every Delta Psi imagines! But when we of the earth beneath look upon the members of this most exclusive order we recall the old adage, "Conceit is a characteristic of only the most ignorant—but you, good readers, should have the greatest admiration for these boys—they are making a very brave attempt to be nonchalant under a very great handicap—Delta Psi. The fact that one of their exclusive crowd had the misfortune to "get his walking papers" rather upset them for a while,

But they do come down from the pedestal now and then—This matter of fraternity houses! These boys made a brave attempt to start things off in this line—but seemingly forgot their old motto "Only the best". However this was during the summer—and you must remember, good readers, that this hot weather sometimes causes us to throw discretion to the winds! But this is certainly a poor excuse!

Last year these boys did have a little weight in campus activities—but they do not cut such a figure this year, having lost some of their big men last year—notably Jim Voller, who, they say, is directing affairs from New York City. They also lost Lem Smith, Calvin Wells and Henry Bobo, and we must admit that these men gave the chapter a bit of prestige—but this was last year. However, they still have Red Miller and the Smith Brothers—They should be able to initiate this year if the rest of the chapter will do a little studying! And there is Harry Roberts—he should have obtained a little more advice about fraternities on the Ole Miss campus before he came here. Harry, with his uncanny power of hypnotism, should be a great asset to the chapter, especially during rush week next year—it looks as if hypnotism will be the only means they have left to keep from becoming extinct!

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Czar Gideon Abernathy, the pride and joy of dear ole A. T. O., is still polishing it up about the campus. Why don't you and Gober give up college life and go to the old veteran's home? The University is looking forward to such a treat. "Doc" Monroe? What do you think? The matter must be dropped. Fair ladies of the coop you will now be entertained by Howard Gover singing you a bar-room solo with his whisky tenor voice entitled "Oh How Dry I Am." Rooster Royce hasn't been running around much this year. Guess the medicine has him down. This strong silent man of the south, Guy Turnbough, has been quite a big figure about the campus. Now Guy, why didn't you tell us you had a daughter of marrying age? The idolized Jack Burke is a fine example of an A. T. O. scholar. Guess he has been going to school all his life to learn how to run. The pitiful part about it is that he over-realizes his greatness. What a shame! But the ole A. T. O. brand just will crop out. Kenner Ellis hasn't got any power—it's just that some girls like to see a show when they haven't anything else to do. Never could we forget Billy Pyle—he's so cute, and to think that he is a typical A. T. O. (a big nub). Father Time John Hopkins was a freshman twelve years ago—and still only a pledge. Ah, the successor to Shoe Williams! Just charter members of the Royal Order of Perpetual Pledges—the R. O. P. P. The pledge button must be cheaper as the majority of A. T. O.'s wear them. Heinous Jeff Busby seems to be trying to follow after some of the A. T. O.'s—Gober, for instance. The entire A. T. O. bunch is as near nil as possible, so how could you expect this to be readable.

DELTA TAU DELTA

The whole writeup could be concluded by just stating the name of D. Collins, by popular vote the Biggest Liar in school, and by popular consensus of opinion the man with the least amount of pure intelligence living. However, out of a sense of fairness, we feel that there are a few more men in this chapter that deserve the notoriety of an honorable mention in this paragraph. Take for instance, Noblin, the man who has the unknown charm for the women which no one has yet been able to discover. Noblin has been known to say that the dumber they are the harder they fall and we know for a certainty that some of his girls have fallen mighty hard. Then, also there is little Hawkins who for the past four years has been trying to get a college education—there is little hope for his ever becoming educated to the extent that he can figure out for himself that he is not good looking and hasn't got 'IT'. There is really so little to write about this club that the writer is more at a loss of words than overflowing with facts. They have done nothing this year that justifies their existence here. In fact they have not even been thought about enough to be talked about.

BETA THETA PI

Get a load of this, brother. The Beta's have the intellectuals, the Beta's have the athletes, the Beta's have social lions, the Beta's have the best fraternity on the campus.—OH, YEAH? And three rousing Bronx cheers. What with Jack Ewing, the stormy little editor of the Mississippian, who had a thought when a mere child, and since that time has been resting on his laurels; and Leon Wheelis, who walks around like he has just layed an egg; and the Meillwain boys; and Perry Maupin, who thinks he is the worst little boy in school and is slowly going to Hell; we might add another cheer from the Bronx. We sing the closing number, and if anybody wishes to join Beta Theta Pi (just anybody) will they please come forward on the last verse.

They say their colors are pink and blue,
Pink and blue, (carry on above, falsettos)
Doesn't that sound sweet to you?
They used to have some darned good men,
But they haven't had one in God knows when.
BETA THETA PI.

PI KAPPA PHI

In looking through the list of fraternities on the Ole Miss campus, we find that there is one here by the above name. Not knowing whether or not it was simply a local, we turned to Baird's Manual and find that it is a national fraternity. After a very diligent search we find a few men on the campus who wear the pin of Pi Kappa Phi. We had at first thought that these men were S. A. E.'s, due to the similarity of the badges. But unlike the S. A. E.'s these men believe in quality, not quantity. But—such a quality—Clayton, etc.

Each fraternity has long striven to get a hold in Meridian, but with this stronghold, fraternities such as K. A. and Phi Delta Theta haven't a chance with dear old Pi Kappa Phi (Dear to the hearts of all the COUNTRYMEN) getting all their men from here.

After looking thoroughly and carefully over the student body, we find that there is a great lanky, lean, long man who bears the name of Archie Carraway. We wondered what fraternity this man belonged to, as he was a transfer from Tulane, and after a private conversation with him in the deepest of confidence, we find that he is one of those Pi Kappa Phis who was sent to aid his dear little brother Ethridge that big man from Meridian who is in quest of social prominence for the fraternity on the campus.

To these little boys, we suggest a good dose of salts and a prayer that Santa Claus will bring them a nice big package from Meridian next year.

KAPPA SIGMA TAU

The name of Kappa Sigma Tau somewhat brings to mind an old adage, "Beauty and brains seldom go together." It is a matter of conjecture, though, whether or not we could apply this to them at all—What do you think? We must not forget, however, that the Gamma Chapter is a member of a sorority that has been bravely trying to gain a foothold since 1922, and has just succeeded. We leave the judging of the outcome to your own opinion, good readers.

During rush week Estelle Taylor and Beth Smiley used Norma Gex's Blue Heaven roadster to advantage—or was it? Several rushees succumbed. But we understand that some of the good work done by this group of girls has been all for nothing. For some reason (one can only conjecture) two of their pledges were dropped from the ranks. They either could not get along with the girls, or was it that the girls couldn't get along with them? It must have been the latter! With their town crier and news agent, Judy Maufray gone, the K. S. T.'s do not get as much notoriety as formerly.

Then, too, the fact that their dark and mysterious lady, Boots Compton, did not return this year was somewhat disheartening.

Therefore, in conclusion, we bid the Kappa Sigma Taus farewell and hope that they may hold their own next year!!—May Brannon go rolling on.

KAPPA DELTA

But they have a good chapter at L. S. U. And it is certainly pitiful and heart rendering to realize they had to call in several alumnae to keep the pure emblem of Hava-Tampa on the heaving breast of dear little Mayme (we used dear replaced for Red's adjective—expensive). Even for them to think that they have the slightest chance for the overcoming of the Ole Miss campus in greatness, is purely a misinformed idea placed in their beautiful little dumb heads by some ardent and for the present admirers—and even they are limited to a small number of unknown personalities of the campus. With the departure of 1930's Miss Ole Miss, Kappa Delta took an extreme slump from which it is doubtful that they will ever ascend. And this Culley person, you know, the Rah Rah Girl—she might solve a part of the problem to the extent that they might see daylight within the next ten years, but that, too, is doubtful. Mary Quinn Doak—but why bring "that" up? In fact, the whole bunch and situation is a deplorable problem for which we see no solution at present. It is a perfect example of trying to and can't.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Oh, yes, there is another group on the campus, a supposedly fraternity, which through courtesy we cannot overlook. They are commonly known on the campus as the "Poorly Kept Arphan" boys, but their real name is Pi Kappa Alpha.

These boys forgot that there was going to be a rush season last fall, but they had so many transfers that they had no need for any new men anyway.

This crowd lost their "big shots" through the graduation of one Nolan Fortenberry and Jesse Graham last year; however, they seem to have gotten along just as well without them. However, their oldest man in the faculty, their only strategic politician, their only official shiner, their only chance at the coop, and in fact about all there is left of them, Simon Leviticus—, still continues to haunt the campus and vex the co-eds. (And you must admit that this is not saying very much for them.)

"Bean" Irby tried very hard all of this year to keep the chapter going on the profit he made on the Mississippians. Skeeter Webb wanted to build the chapter a new house out of what he intended to make on the bank. Yet, both of them found a hard job before them, and in an attempt to fill the place formerly held by Fortenberry and Graham while they were at the helm of the "MISSISSIPPIAN". Anderson and Irby were a complete "flop".

Hardy Graham tried very hard to fill his brother's place, both in the chapter and at the coop. Just keep on trying, Hardy!!

Russell roomed all year with Sneed in order to keep Sneed's mind off a certain Delta damsel. Tough, Ramsey. We can't help but wonder whatever became of this Johnson-Fulton affair? Chatham and his "sweetheart of Pi K. A." were also missed from the campus this year. We wonder if he still smokes nickel cigars?

And, remember children, "The Shield and Diamond" still publishes pictures for heartsick lads!!!

Oh, yes, we forgot to tell you dear reader, that this is the Gamma Iota chapter of Pi K. A., more easily recognizable as the Dam-ma-I-Owa Chapter.

KAPPA SIGMA

The so-called Kappa Sigma fraternity is believed to have been founded by a bunch of Greek Thugs while enjoying a brawl on a starry night. We wonder if the Kappa Sig's will live up to their old custom of prohibition dances and have a whiz' bar at the next one. Some of the lodge boys have been trying to keep up these traditions by staying in a spirited atmosphere. To dig into all the truth about the chapter at large, would cause this article to be censored. It is best to take the members separately.

These are just a few of the shining stars in the Kappa Sig's Hall of Fame. "Juny Boy" Love's political influence and power is credited to his smooth incandescent shining his Valentino actions with the women, his polished manner of a dignified senior, and those big blushing red ears—"careful, Juny Boy, don't bend your fenders when going through a door". "Chi" Reid has the campus fooled, but we are wise. We know he is only a "pill" trying to be a big "shot". It's a shame the poor annual assistants have to work under such a nub, "Chi", have you been in the annual office this month? Ah, Don Juan Townsend seems to be trying to lead some of the freshmen girls astray with his diplomatic voice and his innocent face. Really, Don isn't so important, its just his imagination. He is not Napoleon, but just a little poodle being led around on a chain. Eh, Witty? Dear Billy Bacon tries to uphold the high ideals of the club. His "Y" work at Columbus almost was a bust. Where is the sign with minus "WO-'"? Wilson Long? Nut said. Say, Billy Watson, was it the spirits or the sorrows that enticed you to L. S. U. after the game? C. E. Anderson and Warren Stewart along with the rest of the freshmen have hopes of becoming real Kappa Sig's some day. Jack Wynne's power is unknown, so he thinks. He really lives up to his name—Wind!

SIGMA NU

The only reason Lee Cossar hasn't been on the blacklist is that they just can't tell whether he is drunk or not—or when he is and when he isn't. They do agree unanimously, however, that his incandescent shining is a definite trait—and refer you to the psychology department to determine whether such action—presumably passed on to him by the brother of last year—and doomed to remain in the family as long as there is a Cossar on the campus—is inherited or acquired. Little Gilly loves to buy cigars—though we must admit that with Weathersby hanging on his coat-tail his popularity has been greatly diminished. To Weathersby we must give the credit, however, of changing him from a good ole country boy to the most conceited, fashionable, and worthless specimen the Phi Mu's have been able to produce. Cuss Pigford, after various attempts in other directions, has tried to run dear little Carol Cair away from the coop—and judging by Elder's actions he is doing a very good job. However, Elder makes three demands of his—if not more—that he quit wearing boots—they show up his old cow-punching days too noticeably—that he at least try using some hair-grower—and that he cease his associations with Pee-Petsy-Willie-Williams.

To the freshmen we give this advice, knowledge, or whatever you may wish to call it. They pledged six men—every one of them the last night of Rush Week, when they knew the other frats had shunned them. Excuse us, Charlie, but they blamed it on your order—the rest of it wasn't so bad. And while we are on the subject, don't overlook the opportunity of meeting Mr. Linson—Mr. Charlie Tomlinson—who brayed both Wynne and Fogg to win the race in the style show. Just when Wynne seems to be settling down, Fogg changes her mind and starts the Wynne blowing all over again—we're for you, fellow. We make these consolations—Cossar hasn't but one year—Pigford will scrap his boots—Bland will quit rooming with Ray—and he really is a good boy—if you don't know him—Billy Denman will quit school—and Sherman—thank heavens—will NOT be business manager of the "Mississippian". Gentlemen, we love you—love you dearly—but the further we are separated the more we love you—and not, we assure you, merely because you are termed the sig-Manures.

CHI OMEGA (Cows, Oh My)

"The moving finger writes and having writ moves on." From the storm-lashed coast of Maine to the golden sands of California, from the fog-bound shores of Vancouver Sound to the orange-laden trees of Florida I've been called on at many times to do many things. I've herded sheep on the lofty mountain tops of Montana and wrangled horses on the burning sands of Nevada until at last I've got a job punchin' "Cows", so please bear with me for just a moment.

Founded in the wilds of Arkansas, the home of the Unger Boys and the Dalton Gang, they say that they have grown ever since. Nurtured in the State of Slow trains and Wild Cows we mustn't think too hard of them all alone in the cold, cruel world. Every fall they take down their trusty hardware and oil up their old riatas and swing into the roundup with burning descriptions of past glories and seeking to brand new mavericks.

Say! and what a bunch they do tangle in their snaky lines: Gee and Gee who might be called Cossar and McHaney, so we'll just leave them there; Holmes and Provine who heartily endorse Octagon Soap to keep that school girl complexion, and Sturdivant who wavers between Nowell and Dee Fedric. Dyer is the one who can talk a goat out of his hide and horns and make him throw the hoofs in for the bargain, just a little sheep in Cow country.

Ford is an Old Timer who after singing the Cowboys Lament was able to call back a Don Juan of the past season. Herron —— wait a while. Love ——, giddy, girlish Love, just the pride of the Bar X. O. Ranch. Keesler stays at home and dangles her lariat for Coers. Davis takes the train for Kay Cee, i. e., Alabama, and tries to shoot up the town. Some people ain't never gonna larn we got civilized. Society ain't everything. We wonder how she gets along in the Old Home Town. Foe the rest just ????????. I ain't so good at this job of Punchin' Cows so you'll have to imagine the rest, dear reader.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON

And now, we come to an illustrious fraternal organization—one of the Big Ten!—But there are forty-six chapters, and Chi Chapter is only one of these! If anyone doubts this, the boys of the chapter will be only too glad to bring forth that (by this time) well-worn heirloom of a charter, which by its rusty appearance strongly indicates that they are a member of this most exhausted order. But even with the name of D. K. E. to back them up the results of Rush Week must have discouraged even the members of the chapter—but the illustrious founders of the Order must have turned in their graves!

THE OLE MISS, 1932

The loss of Fugate and Cheatham seems to have given the chapter as incentive to progress—At least, there is not so much talk about Prohibition and the Volstead Act among the would-be admirers of D. K. E.—not speaking of Chi Chapter. But we must not overlook that publicity man of the chapter—Yearger Moss. We did not mention his name with the others because he does have some redeeming virtues. Cheatham and Philips, however, contributed a great deal toward keeping the chapter on the Social Register—but this activity seems to have been very ably taken over by Larry Fellows and Shelby Maxwell. Girls, beware of these two men because we cannot advise as to their tactics just yet! Ah! we almost forgot to mention one Leslie Darden who has suddenly concentrated his feminine magnetism on one of the fairer sex—Be careful, girls, and don't tie your string too tight because Leslie must keep his mind on Law another year.

Since the boys took Wade Turnage into the fold, there has been an upward trend in their average—and with the help of Dan Peterson the prospects look brighter for initiation this year. The status of the chapter would have certainly fallen even lower if they had not managed to inveigle a little intellectual material into the group. And, another thing, if they can just live down that old reputation of being prejudiced against Prohibition, they might be able to throw off their handicap and at least come to the surface!

DELTA ZETA

Why doesn't the name Delta Zeta bring to mind some more invigorating train of thought—that endless cycle of books and the library, the library and books? Someone might wonder, however, if these girls always go over to the library to study. This is a question that has a prompt answer—yes! This is not a large group. In fact it seems to be diminishing each year. We wonder what could be the reason for this. Is it due to the fact that intelligent girls are becoming more scarce, or that girls are becoming more intelligent each year?

The chapter lost a great deal of prestige when McFarlane was graduated. It was she who put the chapter on a firm foundation—but with her graduation the props became somewhat shaky. We wonder if the Delta Zetas are going to do any rushing next year? The results this year were not so encouraging; but we must remember that the depression probably kept the rushees at home—at least the Delta Zeta prospects. But cheer up girls, better conditions are around the corner. And Louise Wooten—the social possibility—Oh but never mind! They at least have old alumnus Patten to help out.

Delta Zetas just remember that every cloud has a silver lining, and that in the process of evolution through the centuries, the order of things may be reversed—and then, Delta Zeta, thy name will stand at the top!—Perseverance is the thing.

PHI DELTA THETA

This sad group is judged generally by its three most prominent branches; the group itself, its faculty members and its national sister sorority, Delta Zeta.

This group, who is housed under the guiding proportions of Judge Deavours and his daughter, Liz, is headed by the big, bad boy, Eyon Ford, of Sullivan's Hollow. Eyon is a good old country boy. He rooms with his fraternity brother, Miss Douglas Nash, late a non-frat lady, who has succeeded Mrs. Martin as Dean of the Music School. Thus, we take a look at these boys and see the entire roll reflected in them.

Governor Bilbo, feeling so sorry for this group in their efforts to climb the ladder and to gain prestige on the Ole Miss campus decided that he, as Governor of the State of Mississippi, would do the best he could for them. Replacements include Chancellor Powers, Deavours, Dean of the School of Law, and Coach Smalling, 9thletic Director. They are proud of their alumni and justly so, for Governor Bilbo recognizes them. To show their appreciation to Bilbo, they have offered him a bid, but he states hastily that his deed was merely one of mercy.

Beautiful and blissful is the bond that is never severed between Phi and its child, Delta Zeta. But these dear children, fed from the breast of their mother, Phi Delta Theta are fast growing into the buxom, blithe, and debonair likeness of their parents. But parents in this modern day, in their efforts to keep up, frequently need assistance from their offsprings; this having been noticeably shown by their late achievement, the winning of the scholarship cup. We commend you, Delta Zeta in helping your mother, Phi Delta Theta, "who went into the arms of death to give you birth."

(Doodle Doodle Doodle)

If you have red hair or an approach thereto, if you are personally acquainted with the All-American—Pryor Bailey, if you want to get into a chapter that is absolutely free from the mire of campus politics, and if you have an unpenetrable defiance for all men, then you, too, can be a sister in this great organization that for years has so dealt with mankind in general in such a manner that it is dubious just what the ideals and standards of the sisterhood really are. The pure uncanniness for men of popularity is within itself enough to stamp this bunch as one which is seeking personal popularity and pleasure. If, while observing them during the hectic plea and attempt to make themselves the largest club in existence, you will kindly pay attention to the Mighty Stinson (why freshmen go Chi Omega), the inexorable Mayer (bigger and better Miss Ole Misses') the indubitable Stevens (in hibernation this year). Martha Gilbert (the tee hee hee girl). Tearful Dickens (I ain't got no buttee—), and Mal McCool (noted for her—popularity(?)), you will have no wonderment at the fact that they are the most renowned group on our campus. They are as individuals and collectively typified by being geniculate, incommensurate, omnivorous and immiscible among themselves.

PHI PSIS

"He that footeth his own horn, the same shall remain forever in a state of untoothiness." Yes, so say we all in one loud voice as big, bold, he-man Ellsworth breaks out in another of his fancy goose-steps and groans in the ears of his victim, "Our boys are not worried in the least over the house problem. Oh, deah, no. We already have sufficient funds in our treasury to build a lovely house, etc." Pardon me, girls, for bringing that one up again. But then there is Pryor and Webbie and their interests must be taken care of by someone and you know they don't want to be bothered by a bunch of meanies running around over the house raising whoops all the time, so let us drop this fraternity house business. Now and occasionally there comes to my ear the rumor that this McComb club of misfits actually pledged a MAN (or pardon us, maybe we should have said a freshman) during rush week this year and maintained high hopes of misleading another innocent victim until that mean old bunch of Delta au Delta tuffies rushed him away to parts unknown until rush week was over. Ed Zwingle (or is it Elmer Zilch) still maintains that they should have pledged at least ten men if the sassy old garage man up town had not been holding Klotz's (Quick Henry the fit) car in pawn for a gas bill overdue from last year . . . we are in good spirits at present at the prospects of not having this of, or—well you classify them, I've only had three years of Zoology—with us next year. We understand they are all applying for positions posing for the pictures used in Ballyhoo and we see no reason why they should not be used. Anyway we are hoping for the best because the more we see of Phi Psis on the campus the less we believe in fraternities.

SIGMA CHI

With the last straw of the famous false pride broken, what else could they do but steal away to places of solitary confinement—It must be terrible on Skinner after all these years—Our hats are off to Worsham, that diminutive leader of minority opposition, for his heroic efforts in attempting to keep this group from completely flying to pieces—Associated Student Body meetings afford a glorious opportunity to display "sour grapes"—Fay McHaney, that would be bad, bantam, battling baritone from Tupelo—They are even making a desperate stand against the possibility of losing their last claim to notoriety on the campus, chief and leading consumers of fermented juices—Oh death, where is thy sting—Which one of their lot of moron pledges will they hold up as having bumped the whole campus off??? Woe are we! we are in the land of our enemies, and our sins have caught up with us. . . . Picture Biggers at each meeting offering fervent solicitations and prayers that the Republican party, in toto, will stump their toes, break out with the rash, or even drop dead, before the spring elections—Their entire chapter, all six of them, join in the chorus, . . . But "not tonight, Elmer," some other day . . . yes, yes, of course, we understand that these are your trying times, and you have heartfelt sympathy . . .

Hark, hark, the dogs do bark,
The Sig Eps are leaving town,
Some in rags,
Some in tags,
The freshmen turned them down.

Under the able leadership of Mounger, that crooning fool and Arnold Smythe (America's greatest lover, and ask any lawyer why they call him Angel Child) the Sig Eps were too weighed down with the troubles of this all too material world, to be bothered with rushing Freshmen. On pledge day, freshmen were too well up on the subject to be bothered with S. P. E. The gods are indeed good to freshmen as well as drunks.

KAPPA ALPHA

Admiral Byrd, Mike Conner, General Robert E. Lee, and George Howell—four of a kind that beat the color flush of Phi Psi. According to all we can learn from Worry Wart Wells, this order is rounding out the most successful in the history of the chapter. There is no doubt to this fact if an observer will recall Beard, Dean of the Law School, Howell of pugilistic fame, the poker faced Eikner, a student instructor of straight stud, Hopkins, who is president of the all-famous 4-H club, and Singley (P. P.) who is janitor of the Elite Club. Although the Tuxedo Plan has gone out of existence on this campus as an aid to rushing, the K. A. chapter finds that—well I shouldn't say that they could make a man a member of the Cardinal Club. And to think that such an organization as this has to confine itself to the Sunny South when so many good wind-blowing, lanky, uproarious and illustrious pledges are available in the iceberg regions of Greenland. The chapter sorely misses the all-powerful influence of the Mighty Thompson, last year's powerful candidate for the editorship of the "Mississippian", as they have no one upon whose shoulders can be cast the worries of the whole chapter. However, summing the whole outfit up, I can say that it is a fairly remarkable feat to pledge seven out of sixteen "little brothers."

Ole Miss in 1950

Sue was busy! The bed had to be folded back into the wall, the gin bottles concealed, and the low desk which was the remaining piece of furniture in the room dusted off before turning on the radio-vision instrument for ole Doctor Kennon's class. She sighed enviously as she recalled how simple it had been for her mother to attend classes way back in 1932. But here was Sue on the 22nd floor of Ward Hall getting ready to tune in on a class being broadcast from Dr. Kennon's country home fifty miles away from the noise and bustle of Oxford. And the heck of it was that the professor could see her every move as soon as she tuned in on the class. Even now Fred was sounding the claxon on his Autogirosubmaero (Straight 32) on the roof. Ah! An idea! She would put a dummy (her dressmaker had insisted that she buy one) before the radio and trust to luck that she would not be called on. . . .

And now we (and Fred) have Sue in Fred's new Autogirosubmaero. As they flew near Dr. Kennon's home, Fred tuned in on his class, being careful to detach the reflecting screen as it was a serious offense to attend classes outside one's own room. Besides, it might give the professor quite a jolt to see Sue in her own room and in the Autogirosubmaero at the same time. Those things weaken one. Dr. Kennon was saying, "If this isn't plain, just drop by my office and I'll explain again."

At exactly that moment the engine began to sputter and Fred realized that an immediate landing was necessary. The Autogirosubmaero seemed to remain still for a minute and then made a dive toward the house below. With a crash it tore through the roof and Sue and Fred looked down upon a bewildered Dr. Kennon.

Sue swallowed hard, thought fast, and announced, "You said we might drop in so here we are!"

"So you are," repeated Kennon intelligently, "and I'll give you 100 for your prompt response."

"Aw, come on and cut that class."

Who's Who (?)

Don't tell you! You knew it all the time! Who could fail to identify this member of the intelligentsia? Her stay on the campus has been so brief, yet her meteor-like ascent into a permanent position in the minds of her fellow students leaves her a little dizzier than she was (Yes, we think that's possible), and forces us to smile smugly in a college-in-different-from-high-school-I-guess sort of way.

Tall, cynical, and with the peculiar gait that marks greatness. This gait usually directs him into the office of some third rate publication for want of something worse to do. Honored by some of the lesser fraternities on the campus, he has nevertheless endeared himself to the students in such a way that they will sigh with relief when this self-assumed and studied gait of importance becomes a shabby limp and they may give him another gate!

Just a little Freshman Prize Baby—ho-hum—with a mysterious smile strangely reminiscent of Sadie Zilch. This little country gal has come to town and flaunted her subtle charms before the eyes of Ole Misses' male populace—to no avail. She is quoted as saying: "I never won an election through politics." (Says you!!!!) Anyway "Beauty is only skin deep." Ole Miss expands the well known chest, with the proverbial pride and is looking forward to getting her money again—er—we mean—having her with us another three years.

WEATHERSBY-DOOLEY SLING BRILLIANT HOP

SOCIAL CLIMAX OF THE YEAR HELD GREAT SUCCESS.

Friday evening marked the social climax of the year when that inimitable young twain, Miss Marion "Red" Weathersby and Oscar "Get-Hot" Dooley danced their respective ways into the hearts and feet of their fellow-students—again we say, respectively.

The evening was unmarred except for a bitter exchange of words between Messrs. Dooley and Johnny Gilliland, the latter hissing dire threats to Dooley unless he promised to cease flaunting his irresistible personality at Miss Weathersby.

A soft glow suffused Johnny's eyes at the mention of "Red's" name, and none present could deny that his was the action of pure and unadulterated love. Dooley was indeed the lion of the hour, his ability as a host leaving nothing to be desired.

During the first no-break, which the couples danced to the tune of that lilting song-hit, "And Now You're in My Arms," Miss Weathersby seemed lost in the melody and strong arms of her male peer in the terpsichorean art. Not a girl on the floor was able to stifle the green attack of the Demon Jealousy.

Indeed, the secret of Dooley's charm lies in his elusiveness. No woman could safely give her heart to this super-man, for he laughingly professes his motto as regards the weaker sex, "Women, like birthdays, are here today and gone tomorrow." But what can the world expect from a gay youth born into the world with the gift of laughter and a knowledge that the world was mad? Dooley, mild—unassuming—unpretentious, frankly admits that he is not a piece of the Cross.

At twelve o'clock the charming host and hostess bid their hosts of friends and admirers a fond farewell, saying off and on such original things as "the pleasure was ours," or "do come again," and "invite us to yours sometime," and "we are open for election again next year."

POLITICS INTRODUCED ON UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

Cousins Appointed to Head Committee of Investigation.

University, Miss., May 34, 1932—With a scowl that would take the purr out of any peace conference the student body looks upon the unheralded advent of politics on the campus. The sons of Ole Miss may well rise up in righteous indignation against this demon, Politics, who has so subtly slithered his way into the hitherto-

UNIVERSITY LAUNDRY RETURNS SHIRT BUTTON

Investigations Under Way As Play For Publicity is Suspected.

University, Miss., May 34, 1932—Strange have been the events to occur on the University campus this year, but never before have the authorities and students been so bewildered. Baffled, that's the word. Our reporter has studied the matter and can think of no adequate way to prepare the unsuspecting students for the jolt they will surely receive from the knowledge we have recently gained. That is why we put the crude facts at the head of this article. Alack and alas, and alas and alack! A pity that such a magnificent record should be broken in its very prime. Detectives have the following information to report:

For fifty years the University Laundry has had the distinction of being the only institution on the campus which could consistently handle the dirt on the campus without outside help. The Mississippian has tried and failed. Statistics prove that the Mississippian has a slight edge on the Laundry as regards the filth put out by both. These statistics do not include the figures for 1931-32, as the printed comparison might result in a bomb outrage. But we digress. Back to the returned button.

When questioning White and Montgomery at the Laundry, officials noted the significant fact that employees suspect foul play. The manager of the Laundry is quoted as saying:

"Before washing the shirts, my men always carefully pull off all the buttons. We do this for various reasons. Some of the employees are button-collectors just as some of you are stamp-collectors. Also, the buttons make excellent toys for the children. They (the buttons) are simple to string into necklaces, bracelets, earrings, and other forms of jewelry, to say nothing of their effectiveness as artificial rocks in the bottom of fish bowls. Therefore, I can see no possible way that one of my men could have overlooked one of the shirt buttons. It is my opinion that someone stole a button and sewed it back on the shirt, thinking to put us in a bad light with the students."

QUOTATIONS

"I think we will be able to effectively curb the evil influence of Politics on the Ole Miss campus by 1950. I intend to take a post-graduate course in order that I may still be here to see the completion

CAFETERIA SERVES REAL STEAK

Wilroy Solves Heavy Mystery Surrounding Campus Luminary.

University, Miss., Nacember 40, 1931—For the first time since that vague epoch referred to as the "good ole days" when Simon Fortenberry was a mere bristly-pated freshman upon the campus he has since brought honor and distinction (—of having the world's original "perpetual Peter Pan" in the form, guise, behind the wax moustache, etc., of an ordinary human being) to, REAL steak made its unheralded arrival upon the tables of the new cafeteria.

Like a sinister snake (not to be confused with steak this time), the individual cutlets lurked behind the proverbial "woman's skirts," in this case represented by bits of surprised parsley, waiting to strike dead—with surprise—the first student to detect its presence. Imagine the awe that filled the hearts of those students, who had for years depended upon the cafeteria steaks in half-soiling their shoes (the T-bone variety is the only one unsuited for shoe repair), making useful door-stops, key-ring covers, patching holes in the roof, and numerous other things requiring the use of hard, durable material. "Bunk" Roberts, with his never-ending supply of appropriate ceremonies (his most notable performance being that of the Wilted Blotter in the burial of the Blackinkus), was the first to sense the strange phenomenon.

Leaping dramatically to a position of lofty, though perilous, importance atop a nearby chandelier,—and there are always those unkind souls who will say that such action was premeditated,—Roberts explained in a few well chosen words that this was no ordinary event that the students of this decade and University were favored with. Immediate plans were made for a ceremony. Simon Fortenberry was the first man to speak, he being as mentioned before, the only man present who had ever witnessed a similar occasion on this campus.

Fortenberry Reveals Sensational Clue.

With his customary carelessness and disregard for the feelings of others, Fortenberry wandered off the subject, relating the following anecdote. As is usual with all speakers who want for something to say, he began with a weather discussion, to wit:

"Well, it used to be the custom in my younger days for all those in need of a fur coat to man the family gun (the one used at Aunt Hettie's wedding) and disappear into the forests where the city square is now located. Say five minutes later, he would emerge in a fur coat." At this point a few previously instructed Economics students tittered appreciatively and

THE MISSISSIPPIAN

It has recently come to the mind—yes there are SOME editors of college papers who really have this much-discussed and coveted thing commonly known and carelessly referred to as a mind—of the Editor of the College Drift that a word must needs be devoted to Messrs. Ewing, Townsend, Briley, and Herron, who this year have courted the efforts of the garbage collector to maintain his difficult job on the Campus.

Why these four elusive youths feel that their own particular debris, the Mississippian, should not be allowed to occupy a place along with the other trash scattered about carelessly on the campus is a question awaiting the attention of Herlock Sholmes. It is indeed a commendable concession on the part of the big-hearted collector to even volunteer his services in the removal of this nonentity of pu'p and press.

He—the g. c.—is running the risk of spoiling to the point of uselessness his odious collection which evokes some small pittance from the farmers who are careless about what they feed their hogs. The discerning farmers would hesitate to purchase a load bespotted with Mississippians.

It seems strange that knowledge of this—shall we call it a publication?—should have leaked outside the realm of the campus, because the students have shown unfaltering loyalty and watchfulness in their efforts to keep this, their own sin, to themselves. The Editor does not intend this as a reprimand to those students who once heralded Jack Ewing as the much-needed backbone for a jellyfish publication. We only have pity and sympathy for them in this gross deception. Like the tight rope walker who, tripping gayly and blithely across Niagara Falls, suddenly remembers that he has forgotten his umbrella, which served as a balancer. In truth, Burns must have known the astoral form of Jack Ewing in another life when he sagely observed, "A chiel's amang ye takin' notes. And, faith, he'll prent it."

Credit must be given to the little force for their matchless wit and subtlety in the way they handled the incident of Hugh Love's election to the position of "Bachelor of Ugliness". No one doubted for a moment the editor's (Ewing's) ability to understand the true origin of the title given Mr. Love. As a matter of fact, Mr. Ewing has taken about every English course that the school can offer and his true interpretation of the "Bachelor of Ugliness" cognomen could not fail to be the one so universally recognized by all who have had only half the work he has covered in the departments of Literature and English while at school. With the true stroke of genius, Mr. Ewing pretended that he thought the title a literal one. In fact, he went so far as to insert a facetious statement to the effect that no student would want to be referred to as the Bachelor of Ugliness.

In this particular editorial just mentioned, Ewing reaches the epitome of his vast storehouse of knowledge. How limited is the number of editors who would have risked the publication of such a supercilious sentiment regarding the highest honor that can be given to a man on the Ole Miss campus! We salaam you, I'll say we'll slam you. (That crack was indeed worthy of don townsent himself.)

Then, to top it all and show you that he was the veritable Prince Charming willing and ready to pluck the seven hairs from the tail of the Wahoo fish in order to win his fair lady, Ewing comes out with a forceful article a few weeks later berating the Clarion Ledger for "writing something they knew nothing about." How super! To have the stamina of spirit to seriously discredit one editor for doing something he himself had done not a month preceding. Of such stuff are blown-up paper sacks filled. Once they explode, they make a lot of noise; but don't worry, Jack, we use Smith's Auditory Lubricant.

The Editor of the College Drift trusts that there are no super-sleuths amongst us who think that he is prejudiced in any way against the staff of the Mississippian. The men who publish it have always been most kind and considerate of the feelings of all connected with the College Drift and the Ole Miss staff. We are firmly convinced that Ewing, Townsend, Briley, and Herron can carry the mail across the desert. It is with a catch in our eyes and a tear in our throat that we do not correspond with anyone across the desert.

"If placed butt to butt, all the cigarettes which have been CHEERFULLY given me by my friends and others who didn't like me would make a line as long as from Lyceum to the Postoffice. On the other hand, if placed butt to butt, all the cig-

—HUGH HOPKINS.
(Editor of "Bigger and Better Preservation of Cigarette Butts in America")

"After carefully considering the matter from all angles, I think I can truthfully say that I have never deliberately set out to make a girl fall in love with me. One is either endowed with a scintillating personality such as some of my friends are fond of saying I possess, or one acquires a certain amount of savoir faire through contact with one's inferiors."

—GILMAN REID.
(Editor of "How I Did It After Bring A Glummy Soul")

"They used to call me "Moping Mary." Now they call me "Cheery Chee-Wee." I can truthfully say that I was never so surprised in all my life as when they told me I had been nominated and elected."

—MARY LOUISE MAYERS.

BUNKER HILL, JR. ENTERS "OLE MISS"

ALAS, ALAS, AND I PROMISED MY DEAR, DEAR MOTHER THAT I WOULD BE A FAMOUS ENGINEER-LIKE 'CASEY JONES'

the admiring answering glean in Fortenberry's eyes showed great promise of A's and B's for the semester. He shifted his quid to another corner of his massive jaw and continued.

"One day while tracking through the woods in search of me a coat, I chanced upon a whole gang of animals. With the trusty rifle that had done such a good job on Uncle Aldroiseman (Aunt Hettie's husband) I aimed, fired once, and five beasts fell. Four of them were alike so I skinned them for my coat. The other animal was a beautiful, striped, bushy-tailed animal. I took it back to school and had the cook to prepare it for my supper. In conclusion, I wish to say that it is my sincere hope that this meal tonight will mean as much to you in the future as that meat has to me." Much applause—led by Simon Fortenberry. Followed in the main by Simon Fortenberry. Detective Wilroy jumped up and announced that he had a statement to make to the newspapers.

Wilroy Solves Famous Mystery

"For years, detectives (hired by the Public Safety Squad) have been striving to find the real reason behind the mystery surrounding Fortenberry's inability to get a date on the Ole Miss campus. After listening to the boring anecdote he has just told, I am now prepared to present to the world my solution which will explain the why's, wherefore's, and in-as-much-as which's of this man's dateless existence.

Fortenberry confesses to having eaten a most undesirable and unappetizing animal whose name shall not make its indelicate mark on the pages of the Campus Drift. It is a well-known fact that clothes may be burned or buried and no ill effects maintained. In that case, we deduce that Fortenberry can not hope for relief until he is pushing up the proverbial daisies."

Politics Introduced On University Campus

to unpolluted polls of popularity. No one as yet has been able to ascertain the derivation of this element in the various elections on the campus.

Several of the big men on the campus are willing to give their undivided attention to this work until the school is back on the standards and behind the principles it supported when these "Big Shots," as they are fondly referred to by their friends, first came to school.

G. B. Cousins has been placed at the head of the committee to investigate the matter and rout out this corrupting influence. It may be well to note that Cousins has been entrusted with quite a few positions of importance on the campus and no one is better suited to unearth the underlying principles which motivate men to stoop to the aid of politics. The fact that he has attained his present position without the aid of any foreign devices is adequate proof of his integrity. To quote Cousins on the situation:

"We must put an end to the influence exerted by politics. If we don't, in another ten years we'll find that even our fraternities and sororities will become involved in the intricate mesh of deception and fraud."

Bettontia Bettlesnicks
Discusses City Slickers

(Note: This article is respectfully written and submitted in the fond hope that it will be read by any girls who may be so unfortunate as not to be able to get out of having a date with Wilson Long, Howard Gober, Lee Caesar, Robert Warren, Saiby Maxwell, and other such like.)

DEAR READERS:

While in the midst of a beauty meal of octagon soap wrappers, I choked a little and bethought me of several important hints I had for you which will enable you to develop into a mighty mixture of Ninon de L'Enclos, Chee-Wee Mayers, (no, Chee-Wee, we don't charge anything for the mere mention of the name) Pompadour, Sadie Zilch, "Red" Weathershy (that reminds me, you must renew your contract with me or your name will not appear in any of my other articles), and Elsie Densmore. First, let me warn you against the sort of man who continually plies you with gin, black cigars, and veiled or unveiled remarks about how he has a book in his apartment he wants to show you (in his apartment). Despite your rough exteriors, old Bettontia knows that you would be tempted by almost any means to get away from the monotony of a small town and the brutal treatment of a heartless step-mother. Keep in mind that I want to grow up to be a man like you, daddy. On with the dance, Coquin, what does the public cafe if Minnie has the croup? I digress. To the point. Trust only those men with pale pink moustaches. Editor's Note: Wilroy's moustache is RED. To continue: The world is full of the unemployed and fatherless children, the former being broke as the Ten Commandments and latter broke the same Ten. The only difference is that the sale of apples remedies the unemployment question. Now, the question is, do all these unknown and unnamed fathers just happen to dislike apples or can we blame the superfluous population on the doctors? (Ref.: Gray, Edward—"An apple a day, . . .")

And now, mah deahs, my carriage awaits without (without me—heh-heh) and I have an appointment with my tailor to try on my new non-combustible hustle. Remember that when your hair is silvered, Old Bettontia's heart will still heat for you and also for the additional purpose of keeping life in her body.

Farewell until the next issue of the "Campus Drift".

NATURAL GAS

Jessye Stinson didn't seem to take advantage of Mr. B. B. Jones' generous annual donation to the students at the University. We wonder if the old adage about the "apple" and the "Doctor" had anything to do with this?

HEARD AT THE ALABAMA DANCE

V.: "I'm going to Paris next summer for my clothes."

D.: "I was just wondering where you were keeping them."

Red: "Does your girl smoke?"
Ralph: "Well, almost."

We hear that Townsend wants the Ole Miss band to play at his funeral—not because he wants a military funeral, but because he wants all those present to feel sad.

We wonder why there are more asses on this campus than there are horses.

C.: "I hear you had a hot date last night."

B.: "Naw!!"

G.: "Why not?"

B.: "Did you ever enjoy a book with the last chapter missing?"

WANT ADS

WANTED—A tactful soul who will whisper in Burt Coers' shell pink ear the awful truth about what he fondly calls a voice. Applicants for position must not be chicken-hearted if this crowing is to cease.

WANTED—A young inventor to tell us how to utilize some of Garland Lyell's superfluous feet (not in the centipede sense). The idea about erecting an aerial on one of his ears has already been patented.

WANTED—Lodging for a stray dog. Owner will remunerate with a lavish share of her good will and affection. Answer ad immediately, as the coop is getting crowded and Fogg can't take care of Wynn much longer.

UNIVERSITY of MISSISSIPPI

THE UNIVERSITY COMPREHENDS NINE DIVISIONS
AS FOLLOWS:

The College of Liberal Arts, founded in 1848, embracing work in more than twenty departments leading to the B.A. degree;

The School of Law, founded in 1854, offering a course requiring three years for completion;

The School of Engineering, founded in 1900, covering four years of a standard engineering course;

The School of Education, founded in 1903, meeting the needs of all who intend to teach in the schools of the State;

The School of Medicine, founded in 1903, providing a thorough course of two years, constituting the first two of the usual four years in Medicine;

The School of Pharmacy, founded in 1908, offering a three-year course leading to the degree of "Pharmaceutical Chemist," and a four-year course leading to the degree B.S. in Pharmacy;

The School of Commerce and Business Administration, founded in 1917, offering a four-year course leading to the degree of B.S. in Commerce;

The Graduate School, organized in 1927, offering work leading to the M.A. and M.S. degrees;

And a Division of University Extension offering correspondence courses and class work.

The location of the University is unsurpassed in point of healthfulness and beauty.

Equipment, buildings, and grounds, prior to 1928, valued at $1,900,000. Appropriation of $1,600,000 by the 1928 Legislature for new buildings and other permanent improvements, to a large extent already completed, will make a total valuation of $3,500,000.

Expenses are very moderate.

Equipped with many years of practical experience and endowed with a sincere desire to make the OLE MISS the medium of expression for a photographic artistry that cannot be surpassed, we have given our best efforts in order that this volume could but portray the University and its students at their best.

We share with the staff their enthusiasm for the completed book. Primarily the brain child of the staff, we feel that this volume of the OLE MISS will in no small measure merit its praise because of our careful attention to detail and our deep thought of the requirements of such a work.

THE OLE MISS, 1932

THE book is ended, and with it my labors. As the year draws to a close we look back upon it with memories only of that which was pleasant. The pain is forgotten, the worry and struggle hidden beneath the glory and happiness of something accomplished and accomplished well. To my staff, and to the students of my Alma Mater, I extend thanks for assistance and support. I have tried to record the pageant of 1932, the drama of the school year. If within these pages you find something to bring a smile, something to provoke reminiscence, something to hallow memory, my work is more than rewarded. To the students of Ole Miss I present the 1932 OLE MISS, with the hope that it will in some measure serve to represent the year now ending.

RALPH J. MITCHELL,
Editor-in-Chief.

IN appreciation of the co-operation and aid extended me in the construction and management of the 1932 Ole Miss, I wish to thank all those who so kindly and diligently gave their time and efforts to the success of this work. I wish to thank the staff which made my labors possible, the students who gave moral and financial support, the business men and business firms who showed their faith in our publication by advertising in it. I wish to thank each and all whose understanding and willingness to aid lightened the labors of myself and my staff. It has been a pleasure to serve in this capacity. I only hope, as I close my books, and you close this one, that it has not been in vain.

J. GILMAN REID,
Business Manager.
